

Do you need expert behavioral health guidance to help you support your students?

MC3 is here to help!

As school professionals, you know your students best and you understand that early intervention leads to better outcomes. If you are feeling stuck or want some fresh ideas on the best path forward for a student's success, MC3 offers FREE support to help guide you. This includes:

- Virtual psychiatry consultation to receive behavioral health guidance for students, including a Huddle option to invite their healthcare provider
- Online trainings on common behavioral health concerns among youth
- Resource connection to behavioral health tools and local organizations to support students and their caregivers

Our specialists offer guidance on a range of behavioral health concerns, including:

- Anxiety, including school avoidance and selective mutism
- Depression
- ADHD
- Autism Spectrum Disorder
- Eating disorders
- Substance use disorders
- Trauma
- Challenging behaviors
